

Dr. Mark Kohout

25+ YEARS EXPERIENCE | 2 CLINIC LOCATIONS

Biography

Dr Mark Kohout is a Specialist Plastic Surgeon with more than 25 years' experience in cosmetic and reconstructive surgery. He consults in Glebe, central Sydney, and at Bloomfield Specialist Centre in Orange, NSW.

His training includes plastic surgery at Royal North Shore, Westmead, Concord and Prince of Wales Hospitals; the Plastic Surgery & Burns Centre in Nottingham, UK; and a Maxillofacial Surgery Fellowship at Harvard Medical School. He holds a Master of Surgery from the University of Melbourne for microsurgery research and, in 2025, became an ANZ Board Certified Aesthetic Plastic Surgeon.

He co-founded Australia Plastic Surgery in Sydney, has lectured nationally and internationally, and has appeared on The Biggest Loser, Ultimate Transformations and Bodyworks.

Each consultation is comprehensive, so patients have the information they need to decide with confidence.

“Understanding that no two patients are the same, I pride myself on addressing each person’s concerns and tailoring surgical techniques for optimal care and results — ensuring your safety, comfort and goals are our top priority.”

Practice Philosophy

From consultation to post-operative care, each patient receives a personalised plan. Dr Kohout operates at accredited private hospitals with specialist anaesthetic care, and he and his team support patients at every follow-up until recovery is complete.

Patients are seen in Glebe, close to central Sydney, and in Orange, bringing specialist plastic surgery to regional NSW. A complimentary photo assessment is available before an in-person consultation.
